In Brief

TBT* unavailable in hardcopy large print

Worldwide paper shortages and supply chain issues have hindered our ability to print the large-print edition of Talking Book Topics, a problem expected to last through at least the end of 2022. We encourage patrons who previously relied on the paper large-print edition to seek it out in one of its many other available formats, including:

- HTML (with direct download links to BARD) and PDF (with printable order forms), available at www.loc.gov/nls/tbt
- Downloadable audio magazine, available from BARD

The braille edition of Braille Book Review also includes version of Talking Book Topics with highly abridged annotations. Download it in ebraille from BARD or contact your network library to receive a hardcopy subscription.

Reader advisors at your network library are also happy to assist you with finding your next great read. Visit www.loc.gov/nls/find-yourlibrary or look in the final pages of this publication for contact information. Many libraries can send TBT on cartridge to your home, just like any book in our catalog.

BARD Mobile for Android now supports braille

The recently released version 1.4 of the BARD Mobile Android app allows patrons using Android devices running operating systems 7 through 11 to read contracted braille with supported refreshable braille displays. The app works in concert with the free BrailleBack app, available from the Google Play store. A list of supported displays can be found at <https://bit.ly/3r9T71g>. Please note that NLS eReader pilot devices are not currently compatible with the Android platform. For more information, see the BARD Mobile Android user manual at <https://go.usa.gov/xz3TK>.

Dogster* added to NLS braille magazine line-up

A new braille magazine, Dogster, has been added to the NLS collection. You can subscribe to it in hardcopy braille by contacting your network library or download it in ebraille from BARD. Dogster's six issues a year will contain ideas for interacting with dogs, lifestyle stories, new products, and advice on caring for dogs.

New issues of FLQ available online

NLS continues to publish Foreign Language Quarterly (FLQ), which lists popular foreign language books recently added to the NLS collection and available through our network of cooperating libraries. The third issue, released in January and available at <https://go.usa.gov/xtsXh>, highlights recently digitized Bibles in seven languages and the acquisition of a number of new French translations. The fourth issue will be published April 29, 2022.

In Brief

Many of these books come to NLS from other countries via the Marrakesh Treaty, but patrons will also find books produced by NLS and converted from cassette tapes. All books listed in FLQ are available for immediate download from BARD. The new publication also provides directions on how to use new BARD features, such as searching for materials in a specific language.

Braille music courses available from NLS

Four courses developed by the Hadley Institute are available on the NLS website at for adults wishing to learn braille music. “Braille Music Basics,” “Braille Music Reading,” “Braille Music Reading: Keyboard Music,” and “Braille Music Reading: Vocal Music” are available as both downloadable braille in BRF and as large-print in PDF from www.loc.gov/nls/music. They can also be downloaded in braille or audio from the Music Collection on BARD. Patrons who prefer to receive course materials in hardcopy should contact the NLS Music Section at nlsm@loc.gov or by phone at 800-424-8567, ext. 2.

Newsstand

The following announcements may be of interest to readers. The National Library Service for the Blind and Print Disabled reserves the right to publish announcements selectively, as space permits. The items mentioned below are not part of the NLS program, and their listings do not imply endorsement or support. Prices and details about listed items were correct at the time of compilation but are subject to change.

Accessible 2021 tax documents

The IRS has made accessible PDF versions of 2021 tax documents on its website at www.irs.gov/forms-pubs/accessible-irs-tax-products. Hardcopy braille and large print tax documents can be requested by calling 800-829-3676. To receive a copy of your tax notice in braille or large print, call the tax assistance telephone number at 800-829-1040. Taxpayers who need other accessibility assistance can call the Accessibility Hotline at 833-690-059.

Free Windows screen reader primer available

The Carroll Center for the Blind recently released The Windows Screen Reader Primer: All the Basis and More, a guide by David Kingsbury that covers JAWS, NVDA, and Windows Narrator. Patrons wishing to download the free digital book may visit <http://carroll.org/the%20windows%20screen%20reader%20primer/>.

Books for Adults

All books listed in this issue of Talking Book Topics (TBT) have been distributed to cooperating libraries, though TBT does not include every book that has been produced by NLS. The complete collection, containing a wide range of fiction and nonfiction books, including biographies, classics, westerns, mysteries, and romances, can be found by visiting www.loc.gov/nls.

Registered users may also download all titles and magazines from the NLS Braille and Audio Reading Download (BARD) service at <https://nlsbard.loc.gov>. The free BARD Mobile app is available from the App Store, Google Play, and Amazon's Appstore for reading talking books on your personal smart phone or tablet. To learn more about the collection or to sign up for BARD, contact your local cooperating library. Regional library telephone numbers and email addresses are listed on the last pages of this magazine.

Books within the headings Adult Fiction and Adult Nonfiction are listed alphabetically by subject category, author last name, and title. For example the title War and Peace by Leo Tolstoy would be listed in Adult Fiction under the Classics subject category and by the last name Tolstoy. Note: A notice may appear immediately following the book description to indicate occurrences of violence, strong language, or descriptions of sex. The word "some" before any of these terms indicates an occasional or infrequent occurrence, as in "some strong language." Commercial audiobooks for which NLS does not have access to the print book may display the notice "unrated," which means that the book may or may not contain violence, strong language, or descriptions of sex.
